Expert Topic to Research / Question to Answer
Learn about the first little pig. Identify his character traits and motivation for his decision in the story. Describe what happens to him and what lessons are learned. Use evidence from the text.
Resources & Information to Access
The three little pigs book.
Notes, Details, & Evidence
The first pig built a house out of straw. He didn't seem too worried about the wolf. I know this because he played and didn't spend a lot of time making his house. The wolf easily blew his house down. The pig was sad. I know this by his face in the story and how I would feel if that happened to me.
Solutions & Conclusions
The first pig helps to teach us that working hard and being careless is not good. Also you need to be prepared in case bad things happen. If you work hard now you will be rewarded later. It's important to not always play and have fun when you should be working hard. The people that work hard now will be happier in the end.

My Expert Topic	Learn about the first little pig. Identify his character traits and motivation for his decision in the story. Describe what happens to him and what lessons are learned. Use evidence from the text.	The first pig built a house out of straw. He didn't seem too worried about the wolf. I know this because he played and didn't spend a lot of time making his house. The wolf easily blew his house down. The pig was sad.	Working hard and planning will be better in the end.	Would the pig have learned his lesson if the wolf had not come along?
Home Group Topic 1	Learn about the second little pig. Identify his character traits and motivation for his decision in the story. Describe what happens to him and what lessons are learned. Use evidence from the text.	The second pig built a house out of sticks. He spent a little more time making his house, but he still did it quickly to play. The wolf easily blew his house down and the pig was sad, just like the first pig.	You need to prepare and work hard.	No questions.
Home Group Topic 2	Learn about the third little pig. Identify his character traits and motivation for his decision in the story. Describe what happens to him and what lessons are learned. Use evidence from the text.	The third pig did not play. He instead spent time finding bricks and took a long time to build his house. His house is like our houses and they won't be blown over easy. When the wolf came he was prepared and happy.	Even though working hard isn't as fun in the moment, if you are prepared then you will be able to handle bad things that come your way.	If the wolf had not come, would the pig still have been as happy when he saw the other pig's houses?
Home Group Topic 3	Learn about the wolf . Identify his character traits and motivation for his decision in the story. Describe what happens to him and what lessons are learned. Use evidence from the text.	The wolf went to each house to try and blow the houses down. He wanted to eat the pigs. The laziest pigs were the pigs he could easily eat after he blew their houses down. The pig that worked hard, he was not able to get.	When bad things come along like the wolf, the people that work hardest and are most prepared will not be as hurt by the bad things.	Did the wolf learn any lessons?
